LEGISLATIVE REQUIREMENTS

This Strategy, along with the associated policies, procedures and guidelines comply with the Children Act 2004 which outlines the screening requirements for child-related employment in the UK. To achieve this, UKPU requires certain standards of conduct of members, coaches, officials, administrators, spectators, service providers, volunteers, sponsors and corporate partners, together with their guests.

The UKPU Code of Conduct is underpinned by the following core values:

3. RECRUITMENT, SELECTION, TRAINING AND MANAGEMENT

To ensure UKPU has effective child-focused policies and procedures in place for the recruitment and acquisition of Meet Directors, Referees, Employees and volunteers, UKPU has implemented a mandatory and legislated pre-screening Working with Children Check (WWCC). The purpose of this pre-screening is to prevent people from working with children if records indicate they may pose an unacceptable risk to children or youth.

In addition to the WWCC, UKPU has a detailed list of requirements each Meet Director is responsible for upholding and leading the UKPU community according to UKPU policies and procedures, which include the UKPU Meet Director Membership Contract, UKPU Code of Conduct and Privacy Policy. Without providing the required documentation, individuals cannot be in a position of power within UKPU.

Refer to 'UK Powerlifting United - Child and Youth Risk Management Strategy - Working with Children Policy' for further information on the required pre-screening when involved in UKPU.

It is the responsibility of UKPU to ensure management procedures remain in place to support and encourage safe and supportive environments for children and young people. These management procedures are centred around being consistent, fair and supportive and can be easily identified and ingrained within the UKPU community.

4. HANDLING DISCLOSURES OR SUSPICIONS OF HARM, INCLUDING REPORTING GUIDELINES

UKPU is committed to providing services to children and young people that assist them in enjoying competitions and events in a safe, fair, inclusive and competitive environment.

Harm is defined as 'any detrimental effect of a significant nature on the child's physical, psychological or emotional wellbeing.' Harm can be caused by physical, psychological, or emotional abuse or neglect; or sexual abuse or exploitation.

Considerations when forming a reasonable suspicion about harm to a child include:

- Whether there are detrimental effects on the child's body, the psychological state or emotional state
 - That are evident to the person, or
 - That the person considers are likely to become evident in the future, and
- In relation to any detrimental effects mentioned above
 - Their nature and severity, and
 - The likelihood that they will continue, and

- The child's age.

It is also important to remember that harm can be caused by a single act or omission or a series of acts or omissions.

A disclosure of harm occurs when someone, including a child, tells you about harm that has happened, is happening, or is likely to happen to a child. It is important to act quickly and in the best interests of the child or young person after a disclosure of harm is received, irrespective of the alleged source of harm.

A suspicion of harm is when someone has a reasonable suspicion that a child has suffered, is suffering, or is at an unacceptable risk of suffering, significant harm.

UKPU has a duty of care to follow up any suspicions of harm or potential risk of harm to children and young people within our community. Examples of suspicion of harm include,

- A child or young person tells you they have been harmed;
- You are concerned about significant changes in the behaviour of a child or young person, or the presence of new, unexplained and suspicious injuries; or
- You see the harm happening.

There may be circumstances where there is concern for a child's welfare, but it does not reach the threshold to be considered a disclosure or suspicion of harm. UKPU staff and community members who may be concerned about a child or young person for any reason are encouraged to:

- In the first instance, discuss any concerns and seek advice from the President of UKPU via president@ukpu.org
- If the concern relates to behaviour of a member of UKPU staff, it may also be appropriate to obtain advice from UKPU Human resources via hr@ukpu.org
